I'm a growth engineer with 11+ years of experience architecting data-driven growth systems and revenue infrastructure across PLG and sales-led motions. I specialize in identifying revenue drivers, establishing feedback loops between data and product, and building sustainable go-to-market foundations that compound.

Personio Lead Engineer

2025-present

Systematized product-qualified lead generation and cross-sell automation while optimizing analytics infrastructure and removing onboarding bottlenecks to drive consistent pipeline expansion and accelerate user progression.

Deepnote Product Engineer

2023-2025

Achieved 5x PLG revenue growth by architecting integrated growth infrastructure spanning experimentation, attribution, personalized sales automation, and performance marketing to optimize freemium-to-paid conversion and scale land-and-expand motions.

Hireproof Founding Engineer

2021-2023

Built and exited Hireproof by establishing product-market fit through community engagement and authentic brand presence, and scaling three core products through direct sales and diversified revenue streams.
